HMH installs new patient identity system

Harrison Memorial Hospital (HMH) announces its partnership with CrossChx, a leader in healthcare intelligence solutions. In October, CrossChx installed the SafeChx system at HMH registration points of emergency department registration and health information. This system offer patients advanced medical identity theft protection and efficient patient registration, while improving health outcomes and reducing the risk of medical errors. The system is very simple to use and has been universally accepted in other health systems. Although voluntary, SafeChx will be offered and encouraged to all patients for use.

SafeChx uses biometric technology to scan a patient's right index finger. By scanning patients' minutiae points on their right index fingers, SafeChx is able to give each patient a unique code that links them to their medical benefits so no one else can use them. All patients will be asked to initially scan their right index finger five times in order to get their unique code. Return visits will only require a fast, one time scan to verify. Medical identity theft is on the rise throughout the nation. It is estimated that Americans spend $40 billion annually on medical identity theft. On a personal level, it is possible for someone to find or steal your health insurance card and use it to get treatment, all while posing as you. SafeChx prevents that from happening because your medical identity will be instantly verified at check-in, not by a laminated paper health insurance card. While SafeChx is focused on protecting a patient's medical identity, it also works to address a variety of other medical issues, like eliminating duplicate medical records. It is estimated that 10 percent of all medical records are duplicates, which causes added expense for healthcare providers to carry and access those records. In addition, it poses problems for the patient when checking in at a healthcare facility and he or she has multiple records at the facility.

SafeChx will also help improve patient outcomes by ensuring that the patient receives the right care every time he or she visits the facility. It is common to see multiple patients with the same name and it would be possible, although unlikely, to pull the incorrect medical file because of the common name. This potential error cannot happen by using the SafeChx system because each patient will be identified and linked to his or her corresponding medical benefits, ensuring the right person receives the right care. In two years, SafeChx has already protected more than six million patient identities at other healthcare systems, with an overall patient acceptance rate of 97 percent. SafeChx offers many long-term advantages with the new technology that will continue to benefit healthcare systems in the future. "HMH is excited to offer the new system that will provide quicker patient registration, decrease administrative burdens of duplicate records and will allow fast and accurate patient identification in emergency situations," says Sheila Currans, HMH Chief Executive Officer. Both CrossChx and HMH are proud to announce this partnership and to begin offering patients advanced medical identity theft protection.

City Commission votes to help bail out Senior Citizens Center

By BECKY BARNES, Editor

The Cynthiana City Commission voted Thursday afternoon to make a $10,000 donation to the Senior Citizens Center in an attempt to bail them out of fiscal purgatory.

A request was made from the Commission on Aging for $25,000 loans from the city and county governments. The county voted in favor of the loan.

However, commissioners agreed that giving the center $10,000 from the fiscal year budget ending June 30, 2014, and another $10,000 the following fiscal year, will serve the center best.

Commissioner Billy Grayson said that by eliminating a monthly payment back to the city, the center will be in a better position to catch up on its bills.

Mayor Steve Moses said the biggest bill facing the center is its IRS debt.

The Commission on Aging met with IRS officials in 2013 to work out a payment schedule.

Moses said at a previous meeting that the current past-due debt is different from the previous troubles.

Commissioner Roger Slade questioned whether there had been any negotiations with the IRS to try to knock the total indebtedness down.

Moses explained that an agency can only be considered for a one-time reduction.

“They’ve already done it once,” Moses said.

“We are an aging society,” said Commissioner Gary Brunker. “That’s who that facility takes care of.”

Brunker said he feared the center would have to close if it doesn’t receive some financial assistance.

He went on to praise the new director, Robin Florence, who he said “has a handle on things.”

Commissioner Jack Keith asked if there were criminal indications.

“It’s under investigation and I can’t say any more,” Moses said.

However, the mayor did advise that the new director is reviewing records to see if some of the back reimbursements can still be recouped from the Bluegrass Area Development District.

In other business, the commission:

- Approved the second and final reading of an ordinance to set water rates. The rates would only apply to commercial and contract customers. The average home customer rate will not be affected.
- Approved a tax incentive for Bay Horse Innovations.

A city ordinance allows for deferred taxes on business park developments. The deferment is for improvements to property and not the property itself.

Brunker said that he wished more businesses would take advantage of the ordinance. He said an accompanying ordinance allows for tax incentives to those who make property improvements downtown as well.

- Met in executive session for 30 minutes to discuss the possible employment of a specific person. Following the closed-door session, Moses announced that there would be no action taken.

KCTCS names new president of MCTC, to begin Jan. 1

Kentucky Community and Technical College System (KCTCS) President Michael B. McCall has announced the appointment of Stephen Vacik, Ed.D., as the next president of Maysville Community and Technical College (MCTC).

Dr. Vacik has served as president of Colby Community College in Kansas since 2011 and his career at community colleges spans 18 years. Dr. Vacik is a former Academic Dean and Vice-President of Instruction at East Mississippi Community College and he previously held several faculty and administrative positions at Beville State Community College.

“We are pleased to welcome Dr. Vacik to MCTC and KCTCS,” said President McCall. “He has the qualifications, experience and leadership skills to continue the success of MCTC.”

After consideration of three candidates, the MCTC Board of Directors unanimously recommended Dr. Vacik for the position. Board Chair Charles Calvert said, “It was a pleasure to participate in the process of selecting a new president for MCTC. We were blessed to have an extraordinarily strong field of candidates. Dr. Vacik demonstrated experience and loyalty to community college systems and that history will serve him well as he leads our institution into the future.”

Dr. Vacik earned an Ed.D. in higher education administration, a master’s degree in history and a bachelor’s degree English, all from the University of Alabama.

Following his appointment Dr. Vacik said, “I am both humbled and thrilled to accept this offer to serve as the next president of MCTC. Likewise, I am excited to work with the faculty, staff, students and local communities to continue the effort to make MCTC the first choice for higher education in northeastern Kentucky.”

Dr. Vacik will begin serving as president effective Jan. 1, 2015.

One of the things that Cynthiana Firefighters are thankful for is a brand new state-of-the-art pumper truck that was delivered to the station downtown in early October.

eat whatever the rest of the CFD crew was willing to cook.

But in all seriousness, the CFD Thanksgiving meal will feature a home-cooked 16-pound turkey that Hawkins will prepare in the galley kitchen in the back of the city building.

In the meantime, the firefighters move emergency vehicles to the parking lot next door and invite their family members to a potluck holiday meal in the garage.

“It’s an annual custom with us to have our families join us for the Thanksgiving meal. It’s a really nice time for us all to share the holiday,” commented P.J.

Simpson.

And with it comes an expression of thanks for the blessings of the new year, Hawkins said.

The individual members of the crew who will be on the day shift Thanksgiving declined to express the things that they are personally thankful for. But as for the CFD as a whole, they were very thankful for the purchase of a brand new pumper truck this year as well as new firefighting and safety equipment.

And they also expressed hope that the Thanksgiving holiday will pass safely for all Cynthiana and Harrison County families.

Especially for those families whose tradition is to deep fry a turkey for Thanksgiving.

“I would be thankful if families observed every safety precaution when it comes to deep frying a turkey. Don’t burn yourself and keep it away from the house,” Hawkins advised.

Last Thanksgiving, an emergency call came just as the crew had settled down for dinner.

“That’s always the risk,” King said.

“But that’s why we’re glad to be here,” Hawkins added.

Traffic safety check points for Thanksgiving week and December

The Kentucky State Police at Dry Ridge will be conducting traffic safety checkpoints throughout the post district. These checkpoints will be set up at designated areas on highways where statistics have shown an elevated number of vehicle crashes.

During the checkpoints officers will be enforcing laws related to Operating a Motor Vehicle While Under the Influence of Drugs or Alcohol, Licensing of Motor Vehicles and Operators, Registration and Insurance Violations, Seat Belt and Child Restraint violations along with Motor Vehicle Equipment Violations.

Below is a list of traffic safety checkpoint locations. These roadway locations include, but are not limited to:

Harrison County: Georgetown Road (US 62W) and Russell Cave; Georgetown Road and Leesburg Pike; KY 36 1 mile west of Cynthiana; US 62E and Oddville Pike; US 27 at the Harrison/Pendleton County Line.

Bracken County: KY 8 at KY 19; KY 8 at KY 1159; KY 8 at KY 1019; KY 1159 at Perkins Ridge Road; KY 19 at KY 539 (Neave-Milford Road); KY 10 at KY 22; KY 10 at KY 19

(Powersville); KY 10 at KY 19 (Brooksville); KY 10 at KY 875 (Bridgeville Road).

Robertson County: US 62 (W Walnut St) at KY 165 (Oakland Road); KY 165 (Blueicks Pike) at Piqua-Kenton Road.

Bourbon County: Georgetown and Russell Cave Road (Centerville); Bryan Station Road at the Bourbon/Fayette County Line; Winchester Road and Thatchers Mill Road; Clintonville Road and KY 57; Millersburg Road and Shipville Road; North Middletown Road and Cane Ridge Road; US 62 at Bourbon/Scott County Line.

Nicholas County: Concrete Road at Jockey Club; Meyers Road and Lake Road; Maysville Road and Lake Road; East Union Road and Gravel Road; Cassidy Creek and Meyers Road.

Traffic Safety Checkpoints are a valuable tool used to promote the safety and well being of the public as well as providing police with visibility and interaction with the community. Checkpoints are utilized throughout the Commonwealth to help promote highway safety. Local police and county agencies may also assist the Kentucky State Police in conducting these Traffic Safety Checkpoints. All checkpoints will be set up in accordance with state law and in compliance with Kentucky State Police policy and procedure.

Viewpoint

Local leadership changes are going to be entertaining

We are now two meetings away from having new faces in city and county governments. It's always interesting to sit on the audience side of things to witness how things play out. Will there be any major changes? Will there be "posturing" for the prime departments or committees? These next couple of years could be tantamount for Cynthiana and Harrison County. I want to see things grow and improve. I want our businesses to do better than just getting by. It's an exciting time to be a Harrison County resident.

There are so many ways to grow under the right leadership.

In city government, it has been the historic practice that the commissioner who earns the most votes gets his choice of departments to oversee. It hasn't always happened that way, but most of the time over the last 30 years, it has.

However, on occasion, a re-elected commissioner will request to stay in the same department.

After the votes were counted on Nov. 4, Commissioner Roger Slade was in the top slot with the most votes.

Slade served as commissioner of public works in the last term. From my perspective on the other side of the table, he has done an outstanding job.

I predict that he'll stay where he is. He has an established rapport with the public works crew and it's a good fit.

Mark Mattmiller, who is returning to

... better bring along some popcorn

Becky Barnes
Editor

the commission after a couple terms on sabbatical, earned the most votes behind Slade.

It was quite an impressive showing after his unsuccessful run at the mayor's seat in the previous election.

Mattmiller was the commissioner of finance during his previous term on the commission. However, I anticipate that he will defer that role to Billy Grayson, who serves in that capacity now.

My suspicions are that Mark will take over public utilities, which is currently held by outgoing commissioner Jack Keith. Keith chose not to seek re-election in 2014.

That leaves open the department of public safety. Walter Tapp, retired police corporal, has his eyes on that position.

I have a mixed sense of how that will play out. A few years ago, former Cynthiana Police Chief Bob Barkley ran a successful campaign for a spot on the commission. However, when it came time to divvy up the departments, he was not selected to oversee the public safety department.

He resigned the post and Gary Brunker was appointed in Barkley's place.

Brunker came in as the commissioner of public utilities to finish that unexpired term. However, he was unable to complete the term when he was asked to return to Frankfort.

It wasn't until he made a bid for commission that he took on the public safety department, which is the most coveted of the four seats on the commission.

Brunker has held that position for two terms, the second of which ends Dec. 31.

After the official swearing in and the dust settles, I expect either Tapp or Mattmiller to be in the catbird seat, aka commissioner of public safety.

It hinges on how his fellow commissioners view Tapp's tenure as a police officer.

They will either defer to his experience as beneficial for the department or view it as a potential conflict of interest.

How the dust settles will be interesting to watch. I think I'll take some popcorn to that organizational meeting.

A representative's Thanksgiving wish to his community

This week, as extended family returns home and we prepare for the upcoming holiday season, I wish you a happy Thanksgiving.

We are now just seven years away from the 400th anniversary of the famous feast enjoyed by the Pilgrims and the Native Americans who helped them weather especially tough times.

Since then, our nation has regularly set aside at least a day to give thanks. In 1789, the holiday as we know it today began taking shape when President Washington called for it to be in late November. President Lincoln solidified the tradition when he declared it to be on the fourth Thursday of the month.

Our country has a lot for which to be thankful, and a big reason for that is our selfless men and women in uniform.

Since the beginning of the Revolutionary War, 42 million Americans have served our country, and more than half of those soldiers are still with us today, including 339,000 veterans who call Kentucky home. Tens of thousands more serve at Fort Knox, Fort Campbell and a number of other military installations across the commonwealth.

Farmers are another major group who have served our nation with distinction. No other country spends a smaller percentage of their income on food, and here in the commonwealth, there is a tremendous amount of diversity, with nearly a dozen different commodities bringing in a significant amount of money every year.

Rep. Tom McKee
Guest Columnist

Our farmers are very charitable as well. Last month, for example, the General Assembly's Agriculture Committee, which I co-chair, heard an update on the growing Farms to Food Banks program.

I was proud to sponsor the legislation making this possible and to support the $1.2 million that legislators put in the current two-year budget to increase its access.

During the just-completed growing season, we learned last month, 365 participating farmers received more than $1,300 on average, and the crops they gave to our food banks totaled nearly three million pounds.

Another thing for which we can be thankful is our safer highways. Since 2006, traffic fatalities have declined by more than a fifth in Kentucky, and we're on track to see that trend continue this year.

There is other good news to celebrate here in Kentucky. Last year, for example, manufacturers saw their exports grow faster than all but one state and those sales now exceed $25 billion.

Unemployment was also down in all 120 counties in both August and September when compared to the same period in 2013. That marks the first time we have seen every county have a simultaneous drop.

Article disrespects brother's memory and his family

To the editor:

This letter is to address the article written by Becky Barnes on the death of my brother Larry Willis.

The family never tried to hide the fact that Larry made a mistake. Mrs. Barnes felt compelled to disrespect my family during a difficult time. The Bible speaks of, Let Him without Sin Cast the first Stone. We all have sinned and come short to the glory of God. I learned at an early age if you don't have anything good to say keep your mouth shut. Larry was paying his debt to society.

I only hope that one day people could find it in their hearts to stop hurting other and learn the true meaning of loving one another. I felt compelled to share the true meaning of love according to the gospel of Matthew. Matthews 22: 36-40

An inspection of the floor revealed some minor problems with the floor's support system. A crew is going in and jacking the floor back up and its supports will be augmented with lag screws and bolts.

"The work will be a permanent fix for the gym floor," Baxter said.

The condition of the floor was never serious. League soccer and basketball games on the floor were not affected, he said.

With regard to youth league basketball, the turnout for a basketball league for kindergarten age girls has been impressive, Baxter said. Over 66 girls registered to play on a team and games have already started.

Turnout for a boy's league, however, has been disappointing. There were only 13 young boys to register for a kindergarten age program this winter.

"The boys' program has been slow to come together. We can only offer the program. Kids still need to sign up for it. There are enough kids in the community to have a program," Baxter said.

He is looking forward to a good turnout for an indoor soccer program scheduled for later this winter, he said.

Tussey

artists in the local art galleries, he has developed an appreciation for the image and the craft on display.

"I love to see the work of talented artists and the incredible things they do. When I visited Rome some years ago and saw works by Michaelangelo and other great Renaissance artists, there were times when I would just tear up. They could do anything," Tussey said.

That statement is also true of artists with whom he has come into contact at home.

"Several of my paintings are at the Z-Gallery in Carlisle. Louise Zachary's place features several wonderful paintings as well as beautiful hand-made quilts and woodworking.

"And then, of course, I have several abstracts at the [Licking Valley Campus, Workforce Solutions] art gallery in Cynthiana, where there is also many beautiful works. I am particularly fond of the paper mosaics that Mrs. [Claire] Muller creates. Those are stunning," he commented.

Though Ottis Tussey has dabbled in art throughout his life, it has only been within the last five years that he has applied himself to developing his artistic skills.

Tussey prefers to work in abstracts. In the years since he has taken up painting, he has been quite prolific.

"I am not accomplished at drawing figures or detailed images. As I've been working, I find that I don't care so much for portraits or scenes as much as I enjoy the interplay of vivid colors on a canvas," Tussey said about his work.

Vivid, colorful backgrounds are a hallmark of Tussey's style, particularly in his recent works.

In fact, there are times, he said, when he has labored so hard to create these colorful backdrops that it takes time to muster the nerve to add anything to the foreground.

"I love the interplay of colors and how they react with each other and with different types of canvas," he said.

In recent months, he has been working with aluminum foil as a canvas, admiring how the reflective quality changes the nature of his acrylic paints.

In another painting in his home, he achieved an unexpected effect when water from a garden hose splashed against the canvas, creating a fragmented effect to which he was able to add his own designs.

However, some of his most striking abstracts have been captured using glass as his canvas. Several examples of his glass paintings are on display at the Cynthiana art gallery and unframed at his home.

Perhaps the most important element in his development as a local artist is a level of personal confidence that he has in his work.

"I think I have reached a point where my work has achieved a recognizable style. It was something that I did not have at the beginning. But these days, one can recognize work that I have done," Tussey said.

He attributes his growth to a certain discipline in his approach. Though he does not keep a regular schedule of time painting, he makes the effort to be at the easel working on a piece even if he is not particularly inspired to do so.

"I cannot develop if I let things go for too long," Tussey said.

Regardless of whether he is happy with his work, he also makes an effort to carry a project to its end.

"The hardest thing for me is getting a new idea. I can only paint so many seagulls or random images. When I was getting into this, I thought that I always needed to wait until inspiration happens before starting in on a new painting. But sometimes, it's just important to get in front of an easel and do something," Tussey said. "If I don't like it, I can just as easily paint over it. And having the painting underneath creates some interesting textures that I can use."

With the coming holiday season, Tussey is following the lead of fellow artist Herby Moore and offering a discount on his paintings at the LVC gallery in the Harrison Square Shopping Center.

Many of his works are discounted from 10 - 20 percent.

"I don't charge much for my paintings, so this discount is a real bargain for my work," Tussey said.

Kentucky Fish and Wildlife reminds motorists to be aware of deer when traveling Cooler temperatures and shorter days bring out the fall colors that paint Kentucky's landscape in warm hues before winter arrives.

At about the same time, the breeding instinct in whitetail deer stirs, putting them on the move and more frequently into the paths of motorists.

About half of all collisions between vehicles and deer in Kentucky occur over the last three months of the calendar year, according to statistics compiled by Kentucky State Police. More of these collisions are reported in November than in any other month.

"October, November and December make up the main breeding season for whitetail deer," said Gabe Jenkins, deer and elk program coordinator for the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources. "The peak is in November."

Deer are most active around dawn and dusk as they look for mates, he said. State police data from 2009-2013 shows most vehicle-deer collisions in November occur from 5-8 a.m. and 5 p.m.-midnight.

"Be aware of the timing and time of day and your surroundings," Jenkins said. "Think about where you see deer and keep that in mind."

Yellow highway signs identify deer crossing hot spots. Stay alert and be cautious as you drive through these areas. At night, use high-beam headlights when appropriate. High beams can help a driver see twice as far.

Should you encounter a deer in the road, slow down but only steer to avoid hitting the animal if it can be done safely. Swerving can confuse the deer even more and increase the likelihood of a crash, Jenkins said. Allow the deer to leave the roadway but keep in mind that other deer may be in the immediate area.

Above all, remember to wear your seat belt. It's the law in Kentucky. Most people injured or killed in vehicle-deer collisions were not wearing a safety belt, according to state police.

The 2,985 vehicle-deer collisions reported last year accounted for less than 3 percent of all vehicle collisions statewide, according to state police data. There were no fatalities resulting from vehicle collisions with deer in the state in 2012 or 2013, and the number of people injured in these types of crashes in Kentucky has decreased every year since 2008.

"We've worked with the Kentucky Transportation Cabinet over the years to identify high-risk areas," Jenkins said. "Transportation crews have cleared areas along the roadways to give motorists a better field of view to see deer and to be more aware of their surroundings."

Biologists estimate Kentucky has about 1 million deer and attribute the increased movement in fall to breeding activity, not hunting pressure. Hunting lowers deer density.

Some of the highest collision rates are found in counties with high deer densities. Boone County led the state the previous five years with an average of 154 vehicle-deer collisions per year followed by Hopkins (116), Campbell (103), Jefferson (100) and Hardin (95) counties, according to state police data.

Of the 10 counties with the highest average of vehicle-deer collisions from 2009-2013, according to state police data, more than half are classified by Kentucky Fish and Wildlife as Zone 1 counties. The department sets deer hunting season dates and bag limits by zone. In a Zone 1 county, a hunter may harvest an unlimited number of does (female deer) so long as they have purchased the appropriate additional deer permits.

"A Zone 1 county is where we're trying to get a reduction in the deer herd," Jenkins said. "We realize there are too many and we're trying to give our hunters ample opportunity to take as many antlerless deer as they can. Does are what drive the population - the more does our hunters can take in Zone 1, the better we do with population control."

More information about vehicle collisions with deer, including statistics and driving tips, is available online at kentuckystatepolice.org/deer-auto.htm.

FBLA Teaches American Enterprise to Westside First Graders. On Oct. 30, FBLA members presented Entrepreneurial lessons relating to apples to all first graders at Westside Elementary School. FBLA members developed the following lessons: designing an advertisement flyer for an apple business, doing math problems with profit and loss, determining resources needed to operate an apple pie or apple cider business, and tasting apples to discuss client likes and dislikes by completing a bar chart. Students rotated during the morning through each station to learn about each entrepreneurial topic. After each student had participated in all the stations, they watched videos on harvesting apples and making apple cider. After lunch, they were provided a variety of apple snacks. FBLA members were pleased at the amount of knowledge retained by the students and thanks the first grade teachers for allowing them to share their knowledge with the students. Shelby McCall discusses the profit and loss concept.

Unite To Read Is A Success. Unite to Read is a statewide literacy project designed by members of the Kentucky Career and Technical Student Organizations. Several activities were planned by the student organizations which included: Book Club-Playdough activity; FBLA-Hand Painting and Caring Chain; Future Farmers of America-Hand Craft/Pledge; and Skills USA-Bean Bag Toss game. Katie Himes, Miss Thorobred Country and Bully Bashers founder, was the storyteller for Juice Box Bully. The Unite to Read--Share a Story event was held at Southside Elementary School during Kid's Club with approximately 40 children in attendance.

Cranberry bogs bring in the harvest

Did you know that the cranberry used to be called the “craneberry?”

When the colonists first learned of this berry from their American Indian hosts in the New World they thought the blooms of the native shrub looked like the long neck and bill of the crane. Eventually, as language goes, it was shortened to cranberry.

Cranberries, or Vaccinium macrocarpon, are native to North America and are one of the main ingredients of pemmican, an American Indian travel food made of pounded dried meat, grains, animal fat and cranberries (the perfect combination of nutrients).

Of course, the native cranberry is much different than those that are cultivated today for juices and sauces.

Most commercial U.S. cultivation takes place in Massachusetts, New Jersey, Wisconsin, Washington and Oregon.

Cranberries have specific cultural requirements so they can only be successfully grown in certain parts of the country.

Most commercial cranberry farms are located in natural or man-made bogs where a system of wetlands, uplands, ditch-

Jeneen Wiche
Columnist
www.SwallowRailFarm.com es and bodies of water work together to create the perfect growing and harvesting environment.

During the growing season, which lasts from April to November, the bogs are drained and the cranberry vines grow in impermeable fields that allow for flooding just prior to harvest.

Glacial deposits created true bogs, but today cranberry farmers can create bogs by layering sand, peat, gravel and clay.

The bottom most layer of clay allows for flooding later in the season while the sand, peat and gravel provide the cultural requirements of well-drained, acidic soil that cranberries must have to thrive.

There are two methods used for harvesting cranberries: dry harvesting and wet harvesting.

The firm cranberries we can buy fresh at the market in November are typically harvested dry by machine. The majority of berries are harvested wet and this is quite the sight to behold.

Growers begin flooding their bogs just prior to harvest.

Once the water level reaches about 18 inches, they send in the water reels.

The reels stir the water, which loosens the berries and, since cranberries float, they all rise to the surface, bobbing about until they are corralled and loaded onto trucks to be sorted.

Sorting cranberries is all about the bounce: An early cranberry farmer named John “Peg Leg” Webb accidentally invented the bounce test for sorting out rotting berries from fresh.

John “Peg Leg” wasn’t nicknamed “Peg Leg” for nothing. He could not carry his cranberries down from the loft of his barn so he would pour them down the steps and collect them at the bottom.

He noticed a reoccurring theme: The firmest fruit bounced all the way down and the soft, rotting fruit remained on the stairs.

The bounce-board separator, developed in the 1920’s, is still used today to sort cranberries.

The flooding of bogs is also utilized for winter protection. The frozen water acts as an insulator and protector against frost and heavy snow damage.

When the snows begin to melt, the bogs are drained once again and the plants break dormancy.

Protecting the plants from frost damage is important because in order to have fruit, they must first have flower.

After learning more about cranberries a couple of years ago I made a concerted effort to use them in cooking beyond Thanksgiving.

Cranberries are great in baking, but I also tried them on pork and chicken and in salads. My favorite way to eat fresh cranberries remains the same, Mom’s cranberry salad recipe-from somewhere else originally.

Cranberry Salad

1 lb. fresh cranberries, ground in food processor

Juice of 2 oranges

1 orange rind, grated

2 cups of sugar or less

Mix these ingredients together and let them stand overnight in the refrigerator, than add:

1 cup celery, chopped,

1 cup apples, chopped,

1 cup walnuts, chopped,

2 small packages of cherry jello made with only 2 cups of water (let cool before adding to rest of the mixture).

Mix it all together, pour into mold and chill.

Bet you don’t know you can create a beautiful oil painting. In fact, if asked most of us would say we could not do this. But you can.

MCTC/Licking Valley Campus Workforce Solutions is offering a painting class on Saturday, Dec. 6 from 2-4:30 p.m. in Harrison Square that will do this very thing. It is amazing, Dianne Young, artist residing in Millersburg, Ky., teaches the class and the results are beautiful, every time. What a gift this would make that person who is hard to buy for. The cost of the class is $25.

During this class, students will paint a snowman from a pattern. The teacher will instruct them how to paint and will allow them to make variations as they choose. They will use a pattern as a guide. The instructor will help with the colors and mixing and give tips on technique.

Workforce plans to offer a painting class to the public every other month. Private parties may be booked as requested. People can pick the date and the picture they want to paint. Adult classes take two and a half hours and children’s classes take one-two hours.

If you are interested in painting classes contact Lennie Kinney at 859-234-6689 extension 105 to register or book your private painting party today.

Woman’s Club holds November luncheon

The Woman’s Club of Harrison County met Friday, Nov. 14 at Hospice of the Bluegrass for its monthly luncheon.

President Anna Ruth McLoney presided over the event. After welcoming members and guests, McLoney requested that a moment of silence be observed to commemorate Veterans’ Day and to honor those past and present who serve and sacrifice for freedom.

She led everyone in the Pledge of Allegiance. Bonnie Teater offered the blessing of the meal. The luncheon was prepared and served by local caterer Layne Tussey.

Two members brought guests for the luncheon. Anna Foley introduced her guest Sherry Copes. Cheryl Case introduced Anne VonGruenigen.

Teater and Lottie Barlow presented spiritual values. Their message was a reminder to raise voices in Thanksgiving for all of God’s blessings.

McLoney introduced musical guest, Dr. Beth Laytart. Dr. Laytart chose a seasonal theme for her musical performance. Her selections included “I Believe,” and “It’s a Wonderful World,” “Hymn” and “Thanksgiving.”

Her piano performance was moving and uplifting. The Woman’s Club is always delighted when Laytart shares her talent.

Case introduced guest speaker Jenny Lynn Varner Hatter. Her lecture was titled “Focus, Meaning and Purpose at Any Age.”

One of the points she made is that as people mature and age their purpose and focus changes.

A person’s value increases because of all the lessons learned through life’s journey.

Hatter is a graduate of Transylvania and the University of Kentucky. She is employed by the Harrison County Board of Education where she serves as chief academic officer.

The monthly business meeting followed the program.

Kaye McCauley read the minutes from the October meeting. Virgie Wells gave the treasurer’s report.

After several other items of business and interest were discussed, McLoney adjourned the meeting.

The Woman’s Club will meet again on Dec. 12. The title of the program will be “Christmas Memories.” Cindy Neat Hill will be the musical guest.

HCHS holds meet the Fillies and Breds

By Mike Aldridge, Sports Writer

Friday evening at 6 p.m. the Harrison County High School Athletic Department held the annual Meet the Fillies and Breds in the high school gym. Fillies head basketball coach Kim Furnish was the emcee of the evening and she began by thanking everyone for coming out to support the athletes for the winter sports. The gym was about one third full with the athletes and the fans that were in attendance.

Furnish began by introducing the 2014-15 Harrison County High School cheer leading squad. She praised the girls for their already achieving the Region Championship. Later in the evening the cheer leaders would give a performance of some of their routine which they will use for the state competition.

Next was the archery team members with only Joanna Stephens present from the squad. The 2014-15 wrestling team was introduced with the majority of the 25 man squad there. The wrestling team had just completed practice as they prepared for the first scrimmage of the year at Perry County Central coming up the next day.

Furnish then introduced her support staff of scorekeeper Cindy Earle, timer Pat Darnell, announcer Connie Reffett and WCYN radio's Jim Swinford. She also recognized Katie Duffie who is the trainer for all Harrison County High School sports. Furnish then introduced her coaching staff of Laura Ashbrook, Chris Reffett and Jeff Kinney. The Fillies were then asked to step out on the floor beginning with the freshman team followed by the junior varsity and the varsity.

Finally, the Thorobreds were introduced beginning with freshman coach Colin Duffie and his ninth graders. Furnish then introduced Thorobreds' head coach Larry Kendall and his assistants Rodney Persinger, Jason Crisp and Jamie Case along with the junior varsity and varsity Thorobreds.

The introductions were followed by two shooting contests between the Fillies and Thorobreds. Each team won one of the events. The Thorobreds then had a dunking contest which was won in a dunk off by Trenton Thompson over Zack Pulliam.

Both the Fillies and the Thorobreds divided up into two teams for an intra squad scrimmage. The 15 minute continuous clock battles completed the evenings showcase.

Wrestlers have success in Perry County Central scrimmage

Open season Saturday at Bryan Station

By Mike Aldridge, Sports Writer

Coach Luke Tucker took his highly regarded Harrison County wrestling team to Hazard Saturday to compete in the scrimmage at Perry County Central. "This was a good opportunity for us (the coaches) to get our new guys their first taste of live action, said Coach Tucker. It allowed us to see what the wrestlers are retaining and what we need to cover before we get into the real season."

The scrimmage saw the Harrison County team win the matches that they should have and lose the weight classes where more work needs to be done. New wrestlers Logan Kellione and Malcolm Walker both looked like that they could make a quick impact in their first seasons.

Clay Arthur, Nathan Lopez, Michael Mattox, Noah Mitchell, Colton Mott, Sean Mullikin, Kellon Newby and Mark Taylor were all undefeated for the day. Oakie Barnes, Colin Coy and Malik Powell each lost only one match.

The "real" season begins Saturday when the Thorobreds will match up at Bryan Station in the Bryan Station Duals.

HCMS Colts play at Powell County, host Bourbon Co.

By Mike Aldridge, Sports Writer

The Harrison County eighth grade Colts remained undefeated after playing Powell and Bourbon counties last week.

The Harrison County Middle School teams played at Powell County on Thursday and hosted Bourbon County on Monday night.

The seventh grade team remained winless and the sixth grade posted an even record for the year.

The sixth grade made quick and easy work of Powell County on Thursday, jumping out to a 17-0 halftime score and breezing to a 29-8 win.

Devin Lewis led the scoring for Harrison County with six points. Tyler Mains and Logan Cummins chipped in five points each. Ian Boland added four and J.D. Soard, Clay Carpenter, Tayshaun Custard and Riley Warmouth each scored two points.

On Monday night, the sixth graders led at every quarter but the last one as they dropped a 31-29 verdict to Bourbon County.

Harrison County led for the entire game until the end when their defense failed them. They allowed Bourbon County some easy baskets. Ironically, it was defense that gave the Colts the boost to take the lead but it cost them in the end.

MIKE'S MINUTE

Should we even bother with the tournament?

Last Thursday the Harrison County Middle School sixth grade team jumped ahead at the half by a 17-0 score over Powell County. At the end of the first quarter I turned to the lady sitting next to me and said, "If they were really concerned about school work, they would stop this game and start the next one. That way the kids could get home at a reasonable hour on a school night. After all, Powell County will not score 10 points for the whole game."

The score was 10-0 at that time and the final score was 29-8 in favor of Harrison County.

process, much like the continuous clock in football.

So, according to almost everyone I have heard talk about the Kentucky Wildcats basketball team in comparison to the competition, it would take a miracle for the Wildcats to not win the NCAA title.

It's not only the Wildcat fans who have come to this conclusion. Hosts of pro-

I was only joking about calling the game, but it seems that when an outcome is so obvious that a child can see it there should be a method of speeding up the grams on ESPN and sports-writers in many papers in the Commonwealth seem to say the same thing.

I have long lived under the delusion that sports columnists, and announcers not under contract to a specific team, are to be non-biased and give an unprejudiced report of what they see so as to not give a false report of what is happening in front of them.

The legendary Caywood Ledford and his sidekick Ralph Hacker were supposed to be for the Cats, so if they gave a one sided opinion that was the way it should be — just like Harry Carey with the Cubs and Marty Brennaman with the Reds.

However, when national radio talk show hosts gush all over a team like they did Kentucky after the Kansas trouncing, it's apparent that this is not just some crazy fan going overboard for their team. This is a team with legitimate special qualities.

They're so special that the hosts were saying things like Duke is good and Arizona is good and Wisconsin is pretty good with an unusual style but Kentucky is in another class.

They speculated about what kind of possibilities it would take for a team to be able to upset Kentucky this season or in the national tournament. Situations like someone making 17 of 30 from the three point line, playing flawlessly AND Kentucky having a bad night; OR a game remaining close until about three minutes to play and the young Kentucky team getting nervous and losing.

The last possibility doesn't sound too feasible to me since half the Wildcat squad has one year or more under their belts and played in many close games last year.

In order for the Kentucky players to move along with their careers and accomplish what they came for — which is to get drafted by the pros — the NCAA should just let another banner be hung from the rafters at Rupp Arena already.

Some of the coaches from other schools probably will not go along with this but in the end, they will be the ones who are wrong.

Then look at all that time wasted.

Bowlers tackle ambitious schedule with only 4 seniors

By MIKE ALDRIDGE, SPORTS WRITER

Coaches Petey Reynolds, Dennis Hyatt and Frazier Fryman have two seniors on each the Thorobreds and Fillies bowling teams but that didn't stop them from scheduling a tough season for their squads. Hyatt and Fryman work mainly with the Fillies while Reynolds handles the Thorobreds.

The Fillies already have a big tournament win as they won the West Jessamine Invitational in Danville on Nov. 15 with senior Andra Gaunce on the all tournament team. Jessica Wilson is the other senior on the girls' squad which is very deep and balanced. Shaylee Carter, Tara Ross, Shelbi Morris, Kelsi Whitson, Miracle Switzer, Alexys Switzer, Josie Vaughn and Brooklyn Fryman make up the under classmen on the Fillies team.

The Thorobreds do not have the experience or the depth that the Fillies have but have found some success this season as well. They were sixth in the tournament in Danville and have played teams close throughout the early part of the season.

William Sievers and Patrick Rogers make up the senior classes contribution to the Thorobreds this year. Greg Dick, Will Hicks, and Andrew Wiggins have some competition experience but they are about the only underclassmen who have much. Tanner Harney, Keifer Cornelius, Jeremiah Cornelius, Austin Wilson, Jacob Moore, Ronnie Saxon, Dalton Switzer and Brady Porter make up the remainder of the team.

The next outing for the bowlers will be on Tuesday, Dec. 2 when they travel to Eastland Lanes in Lexington to battle Bryan Station.

the Colts with 11 points. Devin Lewis scored eight and Ian Boland added six points. J.D. Soard, Ben Lemmings and Tayshaun Custard also scored for the Colts who saw their season mark even up at 2-2.

The seventh grade Colts fell to 0-6 with two losses.

At Powell County a slow start offensively put the Colts behind 24-9 at the half and they could never catch up. They staged a comeback in the second half but fell short by a 32-20 score.

Connor Marshall scored six points to lead the Colts, followed by Blake Robinson with five. Jakob Furnish, Tayshaun Custard, Logan Cummins, Clay Carpenter and Joe Bradford all added points for the Colts.

On Monday night, the 7th grade Colts sprinted out to a 19-11 half time lead only to give it up in the second half for a 33-26 loss.

scored only seven points in the second half to Bourbon County's 22 as the young Colonels took over the game.

Casey Sledd led the Colts scoring with eight points, including a three-pointer, followed by Joe Bradford with six, Tayshaun Custard with five and Blake Robinson with four points. Connor Marshall added three points for the Colts final total.

The eighth grade Colts got off to a slow start at Powell County. They failed to score in the first two minutes of the game, but, led by point guard Quentin Turley, came out of the funk quickly and made short work of the home team.

The Colts led by 11 at the end of the first quarter and increased the lead to 39-21 at the half.

Harrison County stretched the lead 53-29 at the end of the third quarter and won going away 63-42. Spencer Free made 8 of 12 free throws scoring 24 points to lead the Colts scoring.

Turley had 19 points in an effort that drew praise from Coach Glenn Lonaker.

"Great point guard play," noted Lonaker. "I don't remember one turnover from him for the game."

Monday night the Colts improved to 5-0 (2-0 in Bluegrass Conference) with a 62-56 win over Bourbon County. The Colts got off to a great start leading 20-9 after one period and stretching the lead to 36-23 at the half.

However, according to Lonaker, "we quit playing defense" and Bourbon County tied the game at 45 points each.

Three Colts got into foul trouble in the third period with Turley, Free and Thomas Thompson each playing with four fouls.

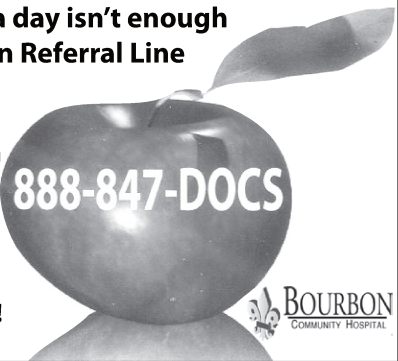

Foul shooting was the key to the game as the Colts made 27 of 32 attempts from the charity stripe to ice the game. Harrison County outscored the Colonels by 27-7 from the foul line in the game.

The Colts will next take to the hardwood on Monday Dec. 1 as they travel to Winchester to take on Robert D. Campbell Middle School with the sixth grade game beginning at 5:15 p.m.

Farm Auction

Saturday, December 6, 2014 • 10:02 am

We are proud to offer this outstanding farm for sale at ABSOLUTE AUCTION. This farm has been in the same family since 1861, so this is the first time in 153 years that this farm has been offered to the public.

The farm is 82 acres of land, more or less, with several acres of fertile creek bottoms and a historic home with several additions and modernizations. The remainder of the farmland is all level to gently rolling and the fencing on the farm is above average. In addition to the house, there is a two car detached garage, 4 bent tobacco barn and a stock barn.

The floor plan of the house features a foyer, living room, huge kitchen-family room-dining room combination, three bedrooms, sunroom and two full baths downstairs. Upstairs has two large bedrooms. The house has electric heat and is serviced by Bluegrass Energy and Harrison Water Association.

This is an ideal tract of land. Fertile creek bottoms, rolling hay fields and pastures, a comfortable home and two barns. There is 1800 feet of road frontage on Shady Nook Road, so this farm could easily be divided into smaller tracts.

OPEN HOUSE: SUNDAY NOVEMBER 30TH 2-4 PM

To see the property or for a bidder's information packet call Doug Hampton @ 859-234-1120 or 859-588-7120. For plats, more pictures, soil maps, etc go to: WWW.PALMERHAMPTON.COM then click on auctions.

TERMS: 10% Down payment with auction contract. Balance with deed transfer on or before January 6, 2015. All inspections, including those for wood infestation and lead-based paint, must be made prior to the auction at the prospective bidder's expense.

Immediately after the farm is sold, we will sell the following farm machinery items for cash or good check: MF Model 150 tractor, rotary mower, scraper blade, tractor boom, trailer.

Holiday music releases on the horizon

Every year new singers showcase their talents with Christmas releases, and 2014 is no different. This year you can get your Christmas spirit revved up with these holiday albums · Michael W. Smith teams up with a bevy of country music greats on his “Michael W. Smith & Friends: The Spirit of Christmas.” Lady Antebellum, Jennifer Nettles, Little Big Town, and even U2’s Bono appear on this album, which features an orchestral flavor.

· Country star Darius Rucker’s “Home for the Holidays” features 10 classics as well as two Rucker originals, “Candy Cane Christmas” and “What God Wants For Christmas.” Special guest Sheryl Crow joins Rucker on “Baby It’s Cold Outside.”

· Reality TV offers up its share of talented singers, and several have released new Christmas music. A capella group Pentatonix (of The Sing-Off fame) offers “That’s Christmas To Me;” Season 8

American Idol winner Kris Allen has a fun new digital download, “Baby It Ain’t Christmas Without You” - a nice complement to his 2012 EP “Waiting for Christmas.”

· If you like your holiday music with an R&B/gospel feel, don’t miss “Holiday” by the legendary group Earth, Wind & Fire.

In case you happened to miss the release of Christmas albums last year, look for offerings from Kelly Clarkson, Martina McBride and Blake Shelton.

Proposed:

Company's Budget Payment Plan is available to any residential customer served under Residential Service Rate RS or any general service customer served under General Service Rate GS. If a residential customer, who is currently served under Residential Service Rate RS and is currently enrolled in the Budget Payment Plan, elects to take service under Residential Time-of-Day Energy Service Rate RTOD-Energy or Residential Time-of-Day Demand Service Rate RTOD-Demand, such customer would be removed from the Budget Payment Plan and restored to regular billing. Under this plan, a customer may elect to pay, each billing period, a budgeted amount in lieu of billings for actual usage. A customer may enroll in the plan at any time.

Kentucky Utilities Company also proposes to change the text of the following electric tariffs: Residential Service Rate RS, General Service Rate GS, All Electric School Rate AES, Time-of-Day Primary Service Rate TODP, Retail Transmission Service Rate RTS, Lighting Service Rate LS, Restricted Lighting Service Rate RLS, Special Charges, Curtailable Service Rider CSR10, Curtailable Service Rider CSR30, Net Metering Service Rate NMS, Supplemental or Standby Service Rider SS, Temporary and/or Seasonal Service Rider TS, Economic Development Rider, Low Emission Vehicle Service Rate LEV, Demand Side Management Cost Recovery Mechanism DSM, Environmental Cost Recovery Surcharge ECR, and the Terms and Conditions.

Changes to the Terms and Conditions include the addition of a section on Company as a Federal Contractor, meter placement, proposed clarifications on terms and conditions specific to residential electric service, and expanded options for the Company to provide written notice for discontinuance of service due to nonpayment or non-compliance.

Complete copies of the proposed tariffs containing text changes and proposed rates may be obtained by contacting Edwin R. Staton, Kentucky Utilities Company at 220 West Main Street, Louisville, Kentucky, 502-627-4314, or visiting Kentucky Utilities Company's website at www.lge-ku.com.

The foregoing rates reflect a proposed annual increase in revenues of approximately 9.6% to Kentucky Utilities Company.

The estimated amount of the annual change and the average monthly bill to which the proposed electric rates will apply for each electric customer class is as follows:

Net Metering Service – Rate NMS

Company proposes text changes to the definition of "Billing Period Credit" to clarify that such a credit is a kWh-denominated electricity credit only, not a monetary credit. Company further proposes text changes to the Metering and Billing section to clarify how the Company accounts for billing period credits for customers taking service under time-of-day rates.

Standard Rider for Redundant Capacity Charge – Rider RC

	Current (Per kW/kVA)	Proposed (Per kW/kVA)
Capacity Reservation Charge per Month:
Secondary Distribution	$1.49	$1.12
Primary Distribution	$1.25	$1.11

Standard Rider for Supplemental or Standby Service – Rider SS

	Current (Per kW/kVA)	Proposed (Per kW/kVA)

Secondary	$12.54	$12.84
Primary	$11.99	$11.63
Transmission	$10.84	$10.58

Also, Company proposes text changes to the Minimum Charge provision to clarify that for a Rider SS customer, Company will bill the customer monthly for all of the charges under the customer's applicable rate schedule, including, but not limited to, the applicable basic service charge, energy charges, and adjustment clauses. In addition to those charges, Company will bill the customer monthly a demand charge that is the greater of: (1) the customer's total demand charge calculated under the applicable rate schedule; or (2) the demand charge calculated using the applicable demand rate shown above applied to the Contract Demand.

Temporary and/or Seasonal Electric Service - Rider TS

Availability of Service:

Current: This rider is available at the option of the Customer where Customer's business does not require permanent installation of Company's facilities and is of such nature to require:

- only seasonal service or temporary service, including service provided for construction of residences or commercial buildings, and where in the judgment of Company the local and system electrical facility capacities are adequate to serve the load without impairment of service to other customers; or
- where Customer has need for temporary use of Company facilities and Company has facilities it is willing to provide.

This service is available for not less than one (1) month (approximately 30 days), but when service is used longer than one (1) month, any fraction of a month's use will be prorated for billing purposes.

Proposed: This rider is available at the option of Company where:

- Customer's business does not require permanent installation of Company's facilities excluding service provided for construction of permanent delivery points for residences and commercial buildings, and is of such nature to require only seasonal service or temporary service; or
 - the service is over 50 kW, provided for construction purposes, and where in the judgment of Company the local and system electrical facility capacities are adequate to serve the load without impairment of service to other customers; or
 - where Customer has need for temporary intermittent use of Company facilities and Company has facilities it is willing to provide Customer for installation and operational testing of Customer's equipment.
- This service is available for not less than one (1) month (approximately thirty (30) days), but when service is used longer than one (1) month, any fraction of a month's use will be prorated for billing purposes. Where this service is provided under 2 or 3 above, Company will determine the term of service, which shall not exceed one (1) year.

Standard Rate for Low Emission Vehicle Service – Rate LEV

Current
Basic Service Charge per Month:	$10.75
Energy Charge per kWh:
Off-Peak Hours	$0.05587
Intermediate Hours	$0.07763
Peak Hours	$0.14297

Proposed – This rate schedule is proposed to be eliminated. The Company will make all reasonable efforts to contact Rate LEV customers to advise them of their new rate options after the Commission approves the new rates but before they take effect (at which time Rate LEV will terminate). Because Rate RTOD-Energy is the new rate most similar to Rate LEV, the Company will automatically transfer to Rate RTOD-Energy all Rate LEV customers who have not responded to the Company's outreach efforts by the effective date of the new rates; however, the Company will continue to make reasonable efforts to obtain those customers' input even after the rate change.

Economic Development Rider – Rider EDR

Company proposes changes to Rider EDR's Terms and Conditions to: (1) clarify the minimum demand required for the rider to be available to customer; (2) increase the range of certifications that can make a customer eligible for Rider EDR to include the Kentucky Business Investment Program (KBI), or the Kentucky Industrial Revitalization Act (KIRA), or the Kentucky Jobs Retention Act (KJRA), or other comparable programs approved by the Commonwealth of Kentucky; and (3) clarify that no credit under EDR will be calculated or applied to a customer's billing in any billing month in which the customer's metered load is less than the load required to be eligible for either Brownfield Development or Economic Development.

Being Thankful in Both Good and Hard Times

It was this time last year I lost my sister to suicide as I was entering my first holiday season without my dad.

It was a very hard time for my family and me. I am not alone when it comes to having a hard time around Thanksgiving and Christmas, which we call the Holiday Season.

It is a known fact that wintertime is a season where many folks find themselves fighting with depression.

I wonder if President Abraham Lincoln had that in mind when he declared the last Thursday in November as a National Day of Thanksgiving. It was designed as a day to reflect and thank God for the bountiful blessings we have received.

I tell my family and the church all the time that we need to be thankful in all things as Paul tells us in Ephesians 5:20 “Giving thanks always for all things to God the Father in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ”

As we are ushering in the Holiday Season with Thanksgiving around the corner, folks usually begin thinking about thankfulness.

Today I was thinking how thankful I am that this day of giving thanks is during one of the happiest and hardest times of the year.

Not only are we ushering in winter, Christmas and the end of the year, there will be a lot of firsts.

First things like, the first Thanksgiving and Christmas for a newborn, a married couple, or the first time in a new home.

Those are all good and wonderful things to give God thanks and be thankful for. However, for others there will be firsts where some will be experiencing hard times.

This reminds me I am not alone this year as others will be experiencing some hard times.

Some homes will have an empty chair at the table with the loss of a loved one.

I have found that folks deal with this pain in different ways. Some look for relief in a bottle whether it is filled with alcohol or pills, or in a syringe.

However, these always end up with the same results - emptiness.

Let me encourage you to take advantage of what President Lincoln declared the last day of November for, a day to reflect and give thanks to God.

This season, go ahead and place an empty chair to express your struggle or for your loved one.

Let’s celebrate the life we have in God, and for the life He gave to us through the memories we hold so close to our hearts.

When we choose to focus on God to deal with the hard times, we can find peace and rest in His arms.

Yes, we can be thankful in both the good times and the hard times because God is good.

GRACE NOTES

Dear God,

Every year at this time I sit down to compose a psalm of thanksgiving, my thanks and gratitude to you for another year that has passed.

The biblical writers say we should give thanks in all things, in good times and bad. Even in bad times, you are still good. You are gentle and kind; you do not break a reed that’s been bruised. You do not crush a spirit that is wounded. So, thank you, Lord, for your kindness and your mercy.

This has been a difficult year, a stressful year. A terrible, horrible, no good, very bad year. Yet, there has been good, for you are good. Thank you, Lord, that even in the midst of tears and sorrow, of panic and confusion and chaos, you still let me know that not only can you handle anything and everything that life throws at me, but that you are able to do immeasurably more, exceedingly abundantly, far beyond all that anyone can ask, dream or imagine.

You turn sorrow and grief into beauty and joy — and hope. Always, always hope.

Thank you, Lord, for your promises to your people for a life filled with hope, joy, purpose and contentment. Thank you for light in the darkness and your grace in even the most ungracious places.

Thank you for simple pleasures, for the smell of chlorine so clean and pure, for roasted spaghetti squash, cozy gray sweaters, for fine-tip black ink pens and honey cinnamon frozen Greek yogurt.

Thank you for violin music and mandolins, flutes and oboes. Thank you for hymns full of rich theology — “God and sinners reconciled” and “nothing but the blood of Jesus” that washes away my sin.

Thank you, Lord, for your love that seeks and saves the lost. I once was lost, but you found me. Oh, how grateful I am to be found! And yet, my heart breaks for those who are still lost. In your great kindness, mercy and grace, let the lost deeply feel their lostness, for only those who know they are lost can truly appreciate being found. Thank you, Lord, for finding me!

Lord, this world spins so fast. It’s crazy out there, so busy and mad, and too often I get caught up in the madness and forget that you say, “Be still.” You say, “Be still and know that I am God.”

Most of the time I fight being still because I’m afraid I will hear you say you’re not pleased with me, that I could and should do and be so much more, that I don’t pray, serve and love enough. All that is true, but when I am still, all I hear you say is, “My child, I love you. Be still and know that I am God, and I work on your behalf.”

Thank you, Lord, that there truly is no condemnation for those who trust in Christ. Thank you, Lord, that I can never not be yours, that you will never take away your gift of salvation.

Thank you for your constant faithfulness to my unfaithful self. Thank you for the security of your love.

Thank you for comfy Skechers shoes and my favorite jean jacket, for warm socks and cold milk, for silence and solitude, for wonder and awe — and red velvet cake pops.

Thank you for the bread and wine of communion, the body and blood of your Son, broken and shed for sinners like me.

Thank you for the word that says with you nothing is impossible and for the faith to believe the impossible can and will come true, that pigs really can and do fly. I’ve seen it happen. I want to see more.

Thank you, Lord, for the Spirit that blows through people’s lives, changing them forever. Thank you for the constant, calming rhythm of the waves, for peace and tranquility, for stability and sanity.

In your name is power and life, rescue, restoration and redemption. You give hope to the hopeless. You still raging storms. You call me friend.

You who hold the universe in your hands, hold my hand in yours. I don’t deserve anything from you, yet you have given me all things.

So to you I give the only thing I have to give: my sincerest gratitude and my eternal thanks.

Thank you, Lord. Thank you! Amen.
